St. Charles County, Missouri – Monday, June 14

The Board of Trustees of the St. Charles City-County Library District announces the retirement of Library Director Jim Brown. Jim has served as the District’s Director for more than 6 years. His final date with the District will coincide with the start of the new Director.

Before joining the District, Jim worked as a librarian at Washington University’s Olin Library and the University of Missouri’s Ellis Library. He joined the District in 1984 as manager of the Kathryn Linnemann Branch and five years later was named the manager of the Spencer Road Branch. He served in this position until his appointment as Library Director in January 2011.

On June 14, 2017 the Trustees will begin the search for a new Director with the release of a Request for Qualifications for executive search and recruitment entities to oversee the process.

The Trustees would like to express our sincere gratitude to Jim for his years of dedicated service to the St. Charles City-County Library District and the citizens of St. Charles County in his role as Branch Manager and Library Director.
